

J. J. TATE SYMPOSIUM

Date: May 19th and 20th, 2012

Location: North Star Training Center, Chapel Hill

JJ proved to be quite intuitive during her adult amateur clinics. Subtle changes in rider positions made huge changes in the effectiveness of the riders' communication with each horse. This symposium is going to expand on this theme, using demonstration riders to show what effect position errors have on the horse, and how corrections to their positions can make major improvements. A must to attend!
